DETAILED ACTION

1. Prosecution on the merits of this application is reopened on claims 1-8 and 10-12 considered unpatentable for the reasons indicated below:

Applicants are advised that the Notice of Allowance mailed is vacated. If the issue fee has already been paid, applicants may request a refund or request that the fee be credited to a deposit account. However, applicants may wait until the application is either found allowable or held abandoned. If allowed, upon receipt of a new Notice of Allowance, applicants may request that the previously submitted issue fee be applied. If abandoned, applicants may request refund or credit to a specified Deposit Account.

The indicated allowability of claims 1-13 are withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to US 3,699,629. Rejections based on the newly cited reference follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1, 7, 10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. They recite the limitation "said post(s)" (claim 1, line 8; claim 7, line 2; claim 10, last line; claim 11, line 1) where there is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-8 and 10-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hood, Jr. et al (US 3,699,629).

Regarding claim 1, as best understood, Hood, Jr. et al teach an electrical component insertion-removal tool, comprising:

- a piston assembly (Fig. 5, 76) having a channel therethrough (Fig. 6, between 66 & 68);
- a cross-member (Fig. 3, 70) slidably receiving said piston assembly, said cross-member having a slot (Fig. 3, 132) therein, said cross-member having a post head (Fig. 4, 88) sized to be received within a retraction feature (Figs. 4 to 5, 80 & 82) which function is to retract and to grab an IC (Fig. 5, IC); and
- a pin (Fig. 3, 130) positioned within said channel and slidably received within said slot; and wherein said post head comprises a mounting post and a cylindrical portion (Fig. 5, head and body of threaded screw at bottom end of 74).

Regarding claim 2, Hood, Jr. et al teach a piston (Fig.5, 74) having a first and second end (Fig. 5, both ends of 74).

Regarding claim 3, Hood, Jr. et al teach that the piston assembly has a handle (Fig. 5, 78) disposed on the first end.

Regarding claim 4, Hood, Jr. et al teach that the channel is disposed on the second end of the piston (Fig. 5, bottom of 74).

Regarding claim 5, Hood, Jr. et al teach that the piston assembly comprises a grip (Fig. 5, 108 & 110) having an opening (Fig. 5, between 108 & 110) therethrough for slidably receiving said piston therethrough.

Regarding claim 6, Hood, Jr. et al teach a spring (Fig. 6, 136) positioned on said piston between said handle and said grip, said spring urging said handle away from said grip.

Regarding claim 7, as best understood, Hood, Jr. et al teach that the post head comprises a first and second post (Fig. 5, head and body of threaded screw at bottom end of 74).

Regarding claim 8, Hood, Jr. et al teach that the pin (Fig. 6, 130) has an angular shape.

Regarding claim 10, as best understood, Hood, Jr. et al teach an electrical component insertion-removal tool, comprising:

- a piston (Fig. 5, 74) having a handle (Fig. 5, 78) disposed on a first end and a channel (Fig. 6, between 66 & 68) disposed on a second end;
- a grip (Fig. 5, 108 & 110) having an opening (Fig. 5, between 108 & 110) therethrough for slidably receiving said piston;
- a spring (Fig. 6, 136) positioned on said piston between said handle and said grip, said spring urging said handle away from said grip;
- a sleeve (Fig. 4, 92) adjacent to the grip for slidably receiving the piston;
- a cross-member (Fig. 3, 70) adjacent to said sleeve, said cross-member having a slot (Fig. 5, 72) therein, said cross-member having a post head (Fig. 4, 88) sized to be received with a retraction feature (Figs. 4 to 5, 80 & 82), which function is to retract and to grab an IC (Fig. 5, IC); and

- a pin (Fig. 3, 130) positioned within said channel and slidably received within said slot; and wherein said post head comprises a mounting post and a cylindrical portion (Fig. 5, head and body of threaded screw at bottom end of 74).

Regarding claim 11, as best understood, Hood, Jr. et al teach that the post head comprises a first and second post (Fig. 5, head and body of threaded screw at bottom end of 74).

Regarding claim 12, Hood, Jr. et al teach that the pin (Fig. 6, 130) has an angular shape.
